This course will teach you how to treatment plan your cases and how to place implants in straight forward cases.

You will be taught by some of the best Clinicians in the World!

You will have a basic understanding about implant designs, implant positioning and you will also be taught basic periodontal principles as it is important to understand how to manipulate soft tissues (incisions and suturing techniques).

It is suitable for beginners and also for those of you who only do prosthetics and would like to be able to have a better understanding of the surgical procedure and perhaps even start placing implants yourself.

Note that it may not be possible to upgrade to the Specialisation course (see FAQ for more information).
